Starting off the season

By Zoe Melby

The boys' basketball team started off the season decently. They have won two games and lost two games so far this season.

They played their first game against Okoboji on November 29, and they ended up winning against them. The final score was 78-70. They didn't do so well in the first quarter with a score of 23-9, but they managed to bring their score back up in the remaining three quarters of the game.

On November 30, they lost to West Sioux. The boys tried their best, but they just couldn't gain the lead against West Sioux. The final score ended up being 66-39.

On December 4, they lost to South O'Brien with a score of 71-50. They had a total of 15 rebounds as a team. Of those, Lucas Gunderson got the most with a total of 4 rebounds. Abdulla Elbuytari and Brody Sohn each had 3 rebounds. Jaxson Heikens and Isaac Ihnen had 2 each, and Caleb Nicks had 1.

On December 7, they won against Akron-Westfield. It was a very close game with the final score being 57-54. They managed to get a total of 26 rebounds as a team. Brody Sohn scored 21 points, Lucas Gunderson scored 17 points, Abdulla Elbuytari scored 10 points, Dylan Meyer scored 6 points, and Brody Boles scored 3 points.

Good job to the basketball boys with the great start to the season! "With more practice on shooting, keeping control of the ball, and getting rebounds, the boys will become better as the seasons continues," said Coach Sohn.

Breaking peer pressure

By Hannah Harmon

On Wednesday, Dec. 5, 2018, the Harris-Lake Park High School went to an assembly in Hartley. There were a total of three different schools at this event: CCE, H-LP, and HMS.

At this assembly there was one main speaker, Joel Penton. He was originally a football player on the Ohio State football team. Penton started the assembly off by choosing three girls and three boys from the three different schools. He lined them up on stage and asked them a variety of questions. He started off with some pretty basic questions like, is two plus two four? Joel then went on to ask some more personal questions like, would you stay at a party even if some people started drinking?

Once this game was finished he started talking about one of his life stories. He started off by saying that he had a friend group of about seven boys in seventh grade. Joel mentions that the eight of them made a promise to each other that when they got older, they would not drink. As the years went on though, one of the boys left their friend group to hang out with another group that was partying and drinking all the time. Penton says, "Once this guy started drinking every weekend he would take one of the boys drinking with him and pretty soon I was left on my own."

There was also a band touring with Joel that was called The Stray. They performed two songs for us; one was an original and the other a Twenty-One Pilots song. When they were done singing, they decided to throw one free t-shirt into the crowd along with one of Joel's books.

The students at H-LP said they liked a variety of things about the assembly, including the songs, the speaking/storytelling, etc.

At the end of the assembly, they told the students they would be giving away Joel's book for free if they came to the concert at seven that night. Pizza Ranch was kind enough to pay for the entire assembly along with all the free books they would be giving out at the concert.

Gavin Elser-opening presents and eating a lot of food
Brody Untiedt-going on a yearly ice fishing trip
Easton Brevik-deer hunting
Wyatt Lorch-eating lots of food
Dalton Nicks-spending time with his family
